'Nite Flite' To Perform On Snow Weekend

Former social activities director Art Alt has announced that the "Nite Flite" group will provide the music for a dance scheduled for Saturday, Feb. 3, Snow Weekend. The dance will be held in the Knights Gymnasium at 9:30 p.m. Admission will be one dollar per person.

The "Nite Flite" has made previous appearances on the Wartburg campus. For example, it was the back-up for the "New Colony Six" when the group appeared here last year during Snow Weekend.

Has Not Appeared

Because Larry Cook, drummer, Ellery Temple, leader, and David Comes, rhythm guitarist, joined the "New Colony Six" for a short time, the group has not appeared on stage together since last summer.

The group identifies itself with the "smooth sound," such as is played by the "Beatles," the "Hollies" and "The Association."

First Recordings Made

Alt announced that the first recordings the group made will be in the juke box next week for those students interested in listening to them. Also the group will be practicing in the Knights Gymnasium this Sunday.

Before the group broke up last summer for a short time, its recordings had been receiving a favorable response. Alt also mentioned that the group is looking forward to starting out again on the Wartburg campus.

Editorships Are Available For Student Publications

Students qualified ahd interested may now apply for the editorship of the Fortress, Trumpet and The Castle for the coming year. These applications should be handed to the adviser of the respective publication.

According to Mrs. Margaret Garland, Trumpet and Fortress adviser, the Faculty-Student Committee on Wartburg College Student Publications must receive these applications before Feb. 21. Application blanks may be obtained at the Publications House.

Anyone applying for these editorships must be a sophomore, junior or senior at the time of taking office. One semester's attendance at Wartburg College prior to taking office is also required.

Prior to taking office, one term must have been spent on the staff of the particular publication for whose editorship he is applying.

Applicants must have an overall grade point ratio of 2.0 in scholarship through the semester previous to submitting application.

Senate Discusses Dress Code

Highlight of last Tuesday night's Student Senate meeting was a discussion on dress code on the college campus involving senators and interested students.

Dean Oppermann illustrates reasons for the dress code he speaks of.

College president, Dr. J. W. Bachman, Dean Earnest Oppermann and Dean Barbara Belk were invited to clarify and express their views on dress code.

Dr. Bachman dealt with what he felt were the three basic questions involved and expressed his opinion.

The first question was "Do we want a dress custom on campus?" Speaking from the perspective of a college alumnus, he said that college could be a means by which a student could learn how to dress appropriately for different situations.

He felt that his own college experience taught him a great deal about how to dress. Therefore, he favored "dress custom" as a possible learning experience.

Is Code Needed?

Secondly, assuming that students want a "dress custom," he asked, "Do we need a dress code to uphold a dress custom on campus?"

As president, he said that he felt that the decision lay with the students. He said that in the past the administration has assumed that the motive for the existing dress code lay with the students. This has been the sole reason for upholding the present dress code.

He said that the action of the faculty was the result of assumed student opinion, and if this opinion is changed, then the administration and faculty should be made aware of it.

Bachman Questions

Thirdly, he asked who should be responsible for carrying out a dress code, assuming the students want one. He questioned whether the Student Senate, alone, was the best place to discuss this.

A joint meeting of the Women's Legislative Council, the Men's Co-ordinating Board and Student Senate was suggested.

Dean Oppermann explained the power structure on campus with respect to dress code.

He handed out diagrams of the structure which illustrated that the ultimate decision rests with the students in the capacities of the various organizations, ranging from the Men's Co-ordinating Board to athletic teams.

He Should Not Enforce

He said that enforcement of a dress code, should there be one, should rest with the dean of students. He seemed to feel that a campus-wide dress code can exist only by mutual understanding.

He suggested that the propriety lies with the Student Senate, which represents all students.

Fortress Staff Chooses Queen

Frosh Movie, 'Lord Jim,' Is Tuesday

"Lord Jim," the movie based on Joseph Conrad's book by the same name, will be shown in the Neumann Chapel - auditorium at 6 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 30.

The cost will be 25 cents. The movie is required of all English 101 and 200 students.

The story is of a young sailor who is involved in a shipwreck scandal. He spends his lifetime seeking to regain his identity.

1966 Discovery Of Artifacts May Benefit New Guineans

NEWS BUREAU -- Natives of New Guinea or children of American Lutheran Church missionaries may benefit directly from the 1966 discovery of New Guinea artifacts at Wartburg College.

A large portion of that collection is being sold to Southern Illinois University, and the proceeds from that sale will go to set up a scholarship fund.

Preference Is Given.

Dr. John W. Bachman, Wartburg president, said preference will be given to New Guineans or children of missionaries when scholarships are awarded.

It is believed that the artifacts, many of which are now unobtalnable, were brought to this country by missionaries.

Dr. Joel Maring, a 1956 Wartburg graduate and a member of the Anthropology Department at Carbondale, helped evaluate the collection when it was first discovered, and he will catalogue the pieces for SIU.

Will Be Exhibited

They will be retained there as the Wartburg College New Guinea Collection, and will be used in anthropology classes and exhibited on national tours.

Wartburg made the decision to sell part of its collection, Dr. Bachman said, because it does not have the facilities for a complete display or the personnel for exhibition tours.

However, the college did keep selected items, including all the Birds of Paradise, and these will eventually be put on permanent display in the Becker Hall of Science.

Dialogue-Forum On Censorship To Be Monday

They will conduct a dialogue concerning specific aspects of censorship followed by an open forum in which the floor will be open to questions from the audience.

Convo for Monday, Jan. 30, will be a dialogue-forum on censorship. Featured will be Judge William W. Parker, a municipal judge of Waterloo, and Miss Mary K. Eakin, Librarian of the Youth Collection of University Library in Cedar Falls, according to Chaplain Herman Diers.

This convocation will be similar to a KWWL television show on the subject of censorship done by these two people recently.

Waterloo municiple judge William W. Parker will help conduct a dialogue-forum on censorship for Monday's convo. Miss Mary K. Eakin, a Cedar Falls librarian, is the other speaker.

Editorial

Trumpet Is Not Fond Of Editorial Chastisement

The Trumpet is not particularly fond of editorial chastisement of an apathetic student body. First of all, editorial chastisement does no good. If anything, readers of the Trumpet resent it. Secondly, the Trumpet does not believe that the student body at Wartburg is actually apathetic.

However, it seems that the student body must redetermine its values. The Trumpet refers particularly to the open forum sponsored by Student Action and PAX! Monday evening in Buhr Lounge of the Student Union.

Attendance Is Poor

The attendance was poor; it is hard to determine why. It cannot possibly be apathy toward our nation's foreign policy. It would be highly inaccurate to say Wartburg students don't care. Everyone on campus, the Trumpet estimates, has an opinion on our Vietnamese policy.

All the male students hold draft cards and have at least thought about their military obligation facing them after graduation. Perhaps even a few people have considered our moral right to be in Vietnam.

The point to be made is that the U. S. military involvement in Vietnam affects everyone on campus. The Trumpet believes that the students of Wartburg realize this obvious fact.

Is Moral Obligation

There was definitely a moral obligation to attend the open forum last Monday evening if not to speak, to listen. If one forgets about obligation, however, the most unfortunate thing about missing the open forum was that it was interesting and informal. No one was obligated to say anything. Those who attended could just sit back and listen, or ask questions if they were so inclined.

Interesting opinions were presented and discussed. People were given information from sources not normally presented in newspapers and popular magazines. The open forum was not really painful to sit through at all.

The Trumpet realizes that Wartburg students are busy, what with vital organizations to attend, intramural basketball games and even studying. But maybe it is time for the student body to redetermine its values.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"DID YOU READ THAT SILLY AD I PUT IN THE STUDENT NEWSPAPER FOR A ROOMMATE?"

Letters' To The Editor

SEA Member Threatens Wartburg Trumpet Staff

To the Editor:

I am very much displeased with the way articles are handled for the Trumpet. In general, I am speaking for the Student Education Association Chapter on this campus. I have written articles for the Trumpet about my organization only once a month, and for some reason you have been failing not only once but several times to print these articles.

When the largest organization on campus is deprived of the right to have its articles published at most once a month, and other groups which are not even recognized groups can have something published whenever they want to, it is very disgusting and unloyal to the campus.

Cites Laws

According to the student government laws we should be able to have something printed when we want it printed, whereas, some other items and groups are not actually suppose to be able to publish in the college newspaper.

What is real bad is when you have a review written about a talk delivered by the President of the College to your organization and it is not even published. It is not always that the President of the College is able to speak to an organization on the campus.

All students pay for this newspaper whether they want to or not through their college fees, so how about publishing what we ask to be published in it especially something about a group, SEA, which is so important and vital to American Education and which covers over half of the senior class of this college.

Trouble Will Arise

The previous article mentioned about the President of the College should be printed in the Jan. 20, 1968, issue of the Trumpet or else more trouble will arise for the staff of this newspaper.

And if you start complaining to me about not having enough room in the newspaper, I will just tell you why not leave out some of the nonsense and print the important articles first. You cannot say you did not receive my articles because I delivered them to you myself in person.

Daniel P. Holste
Vice President
Wartburg Chapter of
The Student Education
Association

Readers are urged to express their opinions to The Trumpet by letters to the editor.

Letters should be in the Trumpet office by Wednesday evening.

On Senate

Meeting Is Special

By PAUL NELSON

I think that I have mentioned the relationship of this column to the title that was bequeathed to me. After considering the content of some of my latest works it appears that I have ranged widely from the subject, "On Senate." This week, that title will aptly cover the following text.

NELSON

The Senate meeting last Tuesday night was somewhat special. It was dealing with a seemingly important concern. It was an open meeting with almost as many persons in attendance as a student body meeting.

President Bachman, Deans Oppermann and Belck were invited to express their feelings and opinions on the subject at hand. All in all, it was rather exciting.

* * * * *

Oh, yes, the topic was the campus dress code. Wasn't it? Weren't the members of the administration there for that purpose and wasn't that what they talked about?

Weren't the senators concerned with the rights of students in this particular matter? Most likely. Perhaps I am being a bit vague. If we weren't talking about the dress code what were we talking about?

"What is the role of senate?" Yup, that is what it was. Pure and simple. The dress code was perhaps the original topic and maybe at times it was discussed.

The real concern was the function of senate. The administration realized this and I think that even the senators came to realize it.

* * * * *

Questions like, "What are the proper channels? Who should take the first steps? But do we have the power?" showed the basic fault at the very base of our structure of student government. No one really knows where he stands, what his rights are, what his powers are, what he legally can do and not do.

For a long while senate, in addition to the other governmental segments, have hobbled along trying to do its best, some succeeding better than others. A many-headed monster has developed with each head trying to go in a different direction resulting in a minimal amount of progress.

Maybe it is time to really define what the role of the student is at Wartburg College. Perhaps, then, the purpose of student government can be found. More thoughts along this line next week.

Reader Is 'Distressed' By Letter To Newspaper

To the Editor:

I was must distressed by a letter to the editor which appeared in the Jan. 20 "Trumpet."

Referring to the administration of Wartburg, the writer said, "They assume the position that was popular fifty years ago, which involved student awe and subservience to all elders (including administrators). But this is 1968 and . . . students have changed. Have administrators?

"All I'm asking is that the Wartburg Administration quit spoon-feeding and expecting us to wash their feet. Give us a chance to prove we are mature . . .

Will Face World

"One bright day the bright-eyed Wartburg College graduate, diploma grasped in his hand, will have to face the world. Help!"

I am appalled to find that "awe and subservience to all elders" has gone out of style. It seems to me that the Christian position should always be one of respect and subservience to those in authority.

We who are younger ought to stand in awe of our elders who have experienced life as we will soon experience it. We who are younger ought to be subservient to all our elders, not only to our parents, but also to the administrators of our school.

Authority Is Imposed

A college campus is not the only place in the world where authority is imposed. It is naive to suppose that no decisions will be made for us after college graduation. Even our parents and administrators are subject to those in authority over them.

To be sure, parents, college administrators and other authorities have been known to be wrong. But a responsible and mature attitude towards authority is not one which chafes under restrictions or whines about regulations.

Submission to those in authority does not mean the abrogation of self-assertion. On the contrary, the responsible person will pursue all legitimate avenues of appeal from a disgusting decision.

However, if the authorities cannot be persuaded to change their decision, the responsible person will accept the decision and adhere to it as a mature member of society.

Society Is Sustained

A responsible attitude realizes that a strong and stable society is sustained only through a system of submission and service. As we accept our position of submission in society without reservation, so we should not view service with apprehension.

May I be so bold as to suggest that, if we would "wash more feet" rather than complain about authority, we would solve more of our problems.

It is true that, someday, diploma in hand, we must face the world. Hopefully, the knowledge gained about life from teachers and administrators who have already experienced what we must experience will be of great value to us.

PAX! And Student Action Sponsor Open Discussion

PAX! and the Student Action Commission sponsored an open discussion Monday evening. The group turning out for the meeting consisted of about thirty students, most of them PAX! members.

A few faculty members appeared after their faculty meeting toward the middle of the discussion.

Senior J. Michael Rudy started the discussion by reading a statement of his views after the moderator received no response to his request for questions or statements from anyone other than PAX! members.

Report Is Reading

A main part of Rudy's report was a reading of the War and Peace Report which featured a letter from a G. I. to his parents. In this letter, the G. I. explained his feelings and emotions as he and his fellow G. I.'s burned a set of Vietnamese huts, taking in the inhabitants for interrogation.

He also told of the grenading of a Vietnamese hut, not knowing that a woman and her children were inside.

Larry Englund, senior, made some comments and presented his views on the offers to the United States to negotiate the war issue. He said that the "United States rejects offers to negotiate, unless it is on their own terms."

Englund cited a column from the Des Moines Register of Jan. 18 which contained the Bermuda Paper. He explained that it advocated a cessation of the bombing by the United States and that then the international pressure would be on Hanoi to negotiate.

Enters Discussion

At this point in the discussion Eric Rachut, sophomore, representing a view opposite from PAX! entered the discussion. He presented some conflicting views to those previously expressed and kept the discussion going for several minutes. However, finding no one to help support his views, he left the meeting.

Freshman Immanuel Smith presented an opinion which coincided with the public policy of PAX! He said, "It is an individual decision whether or not we should be in Vietnam, and that each American should decide for himself about the presence of the United States in Vietnam."

He also said, "If I have to die, I want to do it for something worthwhile. I don't want a history professor saying twenty years from now that it was a worthless cause. . .I would also rather have that same history professor say that 16,000 men have died for nothing instead of 32,000 or 50,000."

Mentions Advocate

PAX! member Dick Briner mentioned the "PAX!-Munich" advocate who had left. He said that "Our (PAX!) real opponent is not really those who wear "PAX! - Munich" buttons, but those people who don't wear any buttons at all. It is those people who have no opinion at all."

Briner said, "I didn't oppose the war when it was confined to military aid like tanks and guns, but it is a different thing when we are supplying 500,000 men to fight the war."

Briner added that Ho Chi Minh is in the position of "holding out against any faction trying to dominate him. With the United States pushing him, there is no question which way he'll go."

Later discussion concerned college students and their role in taking sides in the issue. Briner said, "College students do not have to have a fully developed foreign policy to advocate a solution in order to tell foreign policy makers that their plan is shoddy."

Freshman Steve Hanusa did not express his opinions on the issues, but commented that some of the confusion might be attributable to what newspapers and the administration tell us about the situation, not giving readers a true view.

In further discussion, Briner cited one of President Johnson's 1960 campaign statements saying that he would not send our American boys 10,000 miles away to fight a war which Southeast Asian boys ought to be fighting.

Brings Up Idea

A faculty member brought up the idea of organizing active support for U. S. Senator Eugene McCarthy as a peace candidate. A name and address was given for those people who wished to volunteer to work and support him as a candidate.

Discussion took place of the criticism by other students of those who wear buttons from either the PAX! or "Bellum" group. Members cited instances of comments such as "PAX! reeks."

One of the faculty members present, Dr. Robert Smith, Speech Department, had a comment.

He said, "Those who stand and reek also serve if they raise a stink about the right thing."

Opinions Are Exchanged

Opinions were exchanged on how to raise funds for the PAX! organization. K. D. Briner of the English Department had what appeared to be a solution. He advised asking people to pledge a certain amount each month for PAX! He cited previous experience as a fund raiser for the Democratic party.

He said that he thought that a dollar a month would be an ideal amount. In that way, he explained, fewer people would be inclined to feel that the amount was too much, and more people would be willing to pledge their support.

'Comets', 'Double Stars' Will Be Lecture Topics

Dr. Elizabeth Roemer will lecture to the physical science classes on Jan. 31 and Feb. 1 on the topics "Comets" and "Double Stars." At that time she will consult with students interested in a career in astronomy.

Dr. Roemer is supported by the Program of Visiting Professors in Astronomy of the American Astronomical Society and National Science Foundation.

Is Astronomer

According to Dr. William Azbell, of the Wartburg Physics Department, Dr. Roemer is "one of the outstanding astronomers of the United States."

A native of Oakland, Calif., Dr. Roemer received her Ph. D. degree in astronomy from the University of California, Berkeley.

She has been employed as a research astronomer at the University of California, as an astronomer for the U. S. Naval Observatory and as a research associate for the University of Chicago.

Speaker Is Professor

Dr. Roemer is currently an associate professor of astronomy at the University of Arizona, Tucson.

She has received recognition from the American Astronomical Society, the Astronomical Society of the Pacific, the International Astronomical Union, the British Astronomical Association, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the Royal Astronomical Society, Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi.

Asteroid 1957 has been named "Roemera" in recognition of her work on comets and asteroids.

Venite Plans Folk Songs

Folk songs will be employed in the worship at Venite next week, according to Pastor Herman Diers.

Worship will be led by Tim Schumacher, junior and "The Group," a college folk-rock combo. Some traditional liturgical works will be done in the folk-rock style.

Certain traditional folk songs will also be included in the worship to exhibit their "religious overtones."

Reserved Seats Available

Reservations for the Sunday, Feb. 11, Artist Series presentation of pianist Andre Watts may be obtained from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Thursday and Friday, Feb. 1 and 2, in the Foyer of the Neumann Chapel-auditorium.

Magazine Honor To Dr. Liemohn

NEWS BUREAU--Dr. Edwin Liemohn, chairman of the Wartburg College Music Department, has been named contributing Editor of the "Journal of Church Music," which is published in Philadelphia.

A frequent contributor to the magazine, Dr. Liemohn is one of eight new contributing editors, and he is now expected to write at least one article for the publication annually.

His last piece appeared in the May, 1967, issue and was entitled "The Church Choir -- Fore or Aft."

Knights Take Fourteenth Straight With 82-71 Victory Over Loras

By DAVE WESTPHAL

Loras College became the fourteenth victim of Wartburg's undefeated Knights as they fell stubbornly to an 82-71 defeat last night in Waverly.

Although the Knights had fairly balanced scoring, Cliff Cornelius was Wartburg's big gun as he hit 26 points and pulled down 12 rebounds.

G. E. Buenning and Tom Manchester each had 16 tallies and John Hearn added 14.

The contest was a non-conference warmup for Wartburg's upcoming games against Upper Iowa and Luther, next Friday and Saturday nights in the Knights Gymnasium.

Earlier in the week, Coach "Buzz" Levick predicted that Loras would provide the Knights with some of the best shooting and rebounding they would see all year.

Duhawks Hit 57 Percent

This turned out to be true, as the Duhawks hit 57 percent of their shots, compared with Wartburg's 49 percent, and they were out-rebounded by only 2 bounds.

Thomas Jackson, a 6'6" forward, matched Cornelius in rebounding with 12, and topped Loras with 23 points including 10 of 15 from the field.

In first half action the play was fairly ragged, and though Wartburg held the lead through most of that time, Loras whittled the margin down to 31 - 30 before the Knights established a 37-32 halftime score.

Weren't Up Emotionally

"I can't say we were down for the game, but we certainly weren't emotionally up. We just went out and played," said Levick.

He commented that the Knights' inability to hit free throws (12-23), especially in the one-and-one situation, kept them from running away with the game.

Levick added, "There isn't any question that Cliff Cornelius was the big difference in the game for us."

Last week Wartburg beat Buena Vista for the second time this season, 88-71. G. E. Buenning was high with 23 points.

"In some ways we played in this game as well as we have at any time this season," said Levick. "We defensed Johnson very well, and we did a good job offensively against their zone."

Twice in the second half the Duhawks surged to within 2 points of the Knights, until, with about 10 minutes remaining, Wartburg began a surge which outscored Loras by a margin of 31-10.

Included in that surge were two straight layups by Denny Bowman, who stole the ball and drove the length of the court.

Loras displayed its ability to explode at the end of the game when it scored 14 points to Wartburg's 2.

After the game Levick noted that he was not at all surprised with the Duhawks' offensive punch, but that he was not aware that Loras would play its defense so tough.

UIC Drops Luther

In speaking of Upper Iowa's upset win over Luther at Decorah last week, Levick said, "It would have been real nice for Upper Iowa to have been beaten, because they would have had three losses, which would have put them pretty much out of the race.

"But when you're fighting for a championship, you can't expect other teams to win it for you. If you can't do it on your own, you don't deserve to be champions."

Levick expressed confidence that the Knghts' winning streak was not having an adverse effect upon the players' attitude.

"A winning streak such as ours gives a person more confidence in what he's doing," said Levick. "Sure, there's pressure when you're playing on an unbeaten team, but it's the rare person who does not excel when the pressure is on."

In the preliminary game last night, Wartburg's freshman squad came from behind to defeat the Loras freshmen, 67-65. With 9 seconds left Keith Lazar hit on a 3-point play to cap the rally.

John Hearn pulls down a rebound while Gary Konarske backs up the play in action last Saturday against Buena Vista. The Knights won, 88-71.

Branch -- Out On A Limb

Winning Isn't Easy

By JIM KEIFER

Wartburg kept its perfect record last week by downing Buena Vista. It seems as if the Knights haven't had any real competition as yet. They seem to coast to their wins. This is how it appears to the spectators, but it is hard to realize how much work goes into making a winning basketball team, let alone an undefeated team after thirteen games.

Keifer

It's easy to be satisfied with a fifty-fifty record, and maybe an upset once in a while. But this is not the case at Wartburg. We have a fine coach and a dedicated bunch of boys who want to win. That's half the battle.

But they can't be satisfied to live on the first half of the season. The hardest part of the schedule is yet to come. We play Luther and Upper Iowa back-to-back on consecutive nights. I have all the confidence in the world that Wartburg will come out on top.

I think that the least the students can do to show their appreciation is to go to the games and support the Knights. When the players are announced, when we steal the ball and when we score the cheering should be so loud that you can't hear the announcers and referees when they say something or blow the whistle.

This is the chance for Wartburg to make a name for themselves, so let's get back of the team and support them as they battle for the conference championship, and a chance to go to Kansas City again.

Simpson, Alcindor Head "Sport Awards"

Lew Alcindor of U. C. L. A. and O. J. Simpson of U. S. C. have been named "Top Performers in College Basketball" and "College Football," respectively, for 1967 in SPORT Magazine's 21st annual selections honoring the top performer in every major sport.

Alcindor received his award for leading U. C. L. A. to an amazing 30-0 record and the N. C. A. A. championship. Big Lew averaged 29 points and 15.5 rebounds per game, while intimidating entire teams on defense.

O. J. Simpson was "Top Performer in College Football" for leading the Trojans to the National championship and a Rose Bowl berth by rushing for 1415 yards, best in the nation.

Also among the awards announced in the current issue of SPORT Magazine are "Man of the Year" and "Top Performer in Baseball" honors to Carl Yastrzemski, who led the Boston Red Sox from a ninth-place finish in 1966 to a pennant in 1967.

Say the editors in explaining their choice:

"Few players have ever contributed more to a ball club in one season than Yastrzemski. Carl seemed to come through every time the Red Sox needed a victory. All of which made his Triple Crown--.326 batting average, 121 runs - batted - in, 44 home runs--even more impressive."

Top Reserve Barkema Excels In Defensive Play

By LES GYLLSTROM

In any sport there is a group of players which go under the heading of "unsung heroes." This year's basketball squad has a number of them, and at the head of the list is "Buzz" Levick's top reserve, Jim Barkema.

Barkema, a sophomore from Jewell, has, according to Levick, that rare ability to come off the bench and fit right into the pattern of the game.

Is Defensive Player

"Jim is a defensive player, and this is especially what is needed in a top reserve," explained Levick. "I must add, though, that Jim has more than proved himself as a scorer by giving us some big points when we needed them."

Barkema, who stands 6'4", and tips the scales at 200, was rated at the beginning of the season a top contender for the one forward position. However, even though Cliff Cornelius beat him out for the spot, Barkema isn't one bit discouraged.

"I would like to start, but being sixth man really offers a different type of challenge," said Barkema. "You might be coming in at a critical time, and you have to get in the swing of things right away.

"You have to do just as well on the boards, and be a scoring threat," Barkema added.

Barkema lettered in football as a freshman last year, but decided to concentrate on one sport after a successful season as a starter on the freshman team.

In a game against Buena Vista last year Jim scored 22 points and pulled down 28 rebounds. He led the frosh in rebounding last year.

Barkema is very anxious for the upcoming games with Luther and Upper Iowa, and feels the team will be ready.

"There isn't a doubt in my mind that we will be keyed up for these games," commented Barkema. "I also hope the fans are keyed up, because their yelling really contributes to our success."

GA Was Best Game

"Buzz" Levick felt that Barkema's best game of the season has been against Gustavus Adolphus at St. Peter.

"Jim came off the bench and scored three quick buckets for us, and pulled down quite a few rebounds in the short time he played," said Levick.

"If Jim were a starter, I'm sure he would be scoring in double figures consistently."

Probably Jim's best performance as far as desire is concerned came last week in the Buena Vista game. Before the game Barkema was running a temperature of 101 degrees, but he felt he could still play.

"I asked Jim if he would rather not play, but he wanted to and he did play a very good game," explained Levick. "He spent all day Sunday in the hospital and to my surprise was on the court for practice Monday.

"It takes a boy who is a real team man to be a top reserve, and Jim Barkema fits that role perfectly," said Levick. "You could say that Jim is the John Havlicek of our ball club."

Grapplers Lose To Winona After Winning Own Tourney

By DAVE EVANS

Wartburg's grapplers split a pair of meets the past week, winning their own Quad State Tournament on Saturday and losing a dual meet to Winona State Thursday.

Going into Thursday's meet the Knights had an 0-1 record compared to Winona's 7-1. At 123 Dick Messerly was decisioned by Arnold 10-4. Bob Madison put Wartburg on the scoreboard with a 12-8 win over Bagniewski.

The score remained tied when Paul Koob fought Hall to a 2-2 draw. Koob wrestled at 137 because Mick Ketchum came down with the flu. The Knights had to forfeit at 145, making the score 10-5 in favor of Winona.

Wrestle To Draw

Tom Turner and Sandberh wrestled to a 1-1 draw. Alexander beat Ken Biedermann 6-4, but Jim Nelson narrowed the gap to five points with a 6-4 decision over Pronchinski in the 167 division.

However, that was as close as the Knights came. Greg Slager was beaten 5-1 by Drange, and Dean Knight lost a 3-2 decision to Moen. The final score was Winona State 21 and Wartburg 10.

Last week the Knights came out on top of their own Quad State Tourney, compiling a total of 79 points. Dubuque was second with 68.

Wins Third Place

Dick Messerly won third place at 115 by throwing Klotz (Dub.) in 1:46, losing a 10-5 decision to Stoner (Minn.) in the semi-finals and coming back to win the consolation final with a 2-1 decision over McHome (Simp.)

Joe Breibach, wrestling for the first time since he injured his elbow early in December, came up with a fourth place finish at 123. He decisioned Harris (Simp.) 8-2, he was pinned by Whitehead (Dub.) in 5:50, he decisioned Hartley (Par.) 10-4 and he was decisioned by Bever (Minn.) 2-1.

Bob Madison captured second place at 130 by beating Overgaard (Minn.) 5-2 and losing to Knackstedt (Dub.) in the finals 6-4.

Wins Championship

Mick Ketchum won the 137 championship. He beat Simpson (Mich.) 7-4 in the semi-finals after decisioning Soukup (Par.) 3-0. He took first place with an 8-3 win over Brown (Dub.)

Tom Turner took the 152 championship with a 3-1 win over Simms (Dub.) a pin over Nelson (Simp.) in 1:52 and a 6-5 win over Rose (Minn.).

At 160 Ken Biedermann decisioned Creason (Simp.) 8-6, beat Ketchum (Minn.) 6-5 and beat Hetgen (Mich.) 5-0 in the finals.

Greg Slager won third place at 177. After decisioning Fees (Simp.) 8-0, he was pinned by Knoblock (Par.) in 3:57. He won a hard fought 2-1 decision over Nichols (Minn.) in overtime and in the consolation finals he beat Holland (Mich.) 3-1.

Dean Knight pinned Berner (Mich.) in 1:30, he pinned Opyd (Mid.) in 1:58 and he won a 4-1 decision over Lueck (Minn.) in the championship.

In the heavyweight division, Duane Hansen was decisioned by Rubesh (Doane) and he beat Jury (Dub.) 2-0 in the consolation finals.

Basketball Tickets To Be Sold Jan. 29

(News Bureau)

Reserved seat tickets for the Wartburg-Upper Iowa and Wartburg - Luther basketball games here Feb. 2 and 3 will go on sale Jan. 29.

According to athletic director John Kurtt, all tickets for those two games will be reserved by seat numbers, except for the temporary seating which will be put on the stage of the gymnasium.

The tickets will be sold at the box-office in the lobby of the gym. Hours will be from 8:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. through Wednesday, Jan. 31, or until all seats are gone.

Kurtt said all persons holding complimentary passes, season tickets and life-time passes must present those passes at the box-office when picking up their reserved seats.

"These tickets are not transferable," he added, "and passes will be honored only as long as tickets are available." Passes must be presented with the reserved seat tickets for admittance to the games.

Officials expect capacity crowds for both games and remind fans that last year seats for the Wartburg-Luther game were gone by late afternoon of the first day tickets were put on sale.

Inquiries should be directed to John Kurtt, athletic director.

Knight Bill Mayer Raises Money For Away Game Broadcasts

By MARK BECKER

Did you ever wonder where KWAR-FM got its money to broadcast the away basketball games?

Ask junior Bill Mayer, and, if he doesn't ask you for a contribution, he will tell you. Part of Mayer's job as sports director for KWAR is to raise money during the winter months in order that the station may broadcast all the away games.

However, this is not all the job involves. His main duty is to broadcast the Knight football and baseball games. Last fall he worked with Mark Holtz, KWAR's former sports director, learning the finer points of sports announcing from him.

Holtz Is Good

Mayer said, "Mark was one of the better announcers Wartburg has had, and it is always hard to follow someone like that." Now that Holtz has graduated, Mayer has taken over and will be broadcasting baseball and football, along with junior Tim Schumacher.

A good knowledge of the sport he is announcing and of sports in general are necessary in order to do a good job of sports announcing.

Mayer played high school football, and the fact that he lives in Cotta House, where Wartburg football players live, gives him some insights into the game. He said, "What I don't know, they can help me with."

Enjoys Job

Mayer said he enjoys the job because it "gives me a feeling of doing something with the players I live with in Cotta. I can see the problems of the team and see why we won one and lost eight, and not just sit back in the dorm and say, 'Well, those bums lost another one."

He said "the defense improved, but Coach Bondhus had trouble with the offense. Also, injuries upset our timing." Mayer is optimistic about next year's team.

"The football team is really going to amaze a few people. The team is not going to be one and eight again. Coach Bondhus will have good personnel back, and if we can cure the problem we have with fumbles, we will be all right."

Must Know Policies

Besides football knowledge, one must know something about station policies and must have an ability to make the game exciting for the listening radio audience.

The game was broadcast simultaneously on KWAR-FM and KWVY-AM, Waverly's radio station. Therefore, they had to take a one-minute break for sponsors for KWVY and another 10-second break for station identification for KWAR.

In order to make the game exciting for the radio audience, the announcers must maintain a constant dialogue.

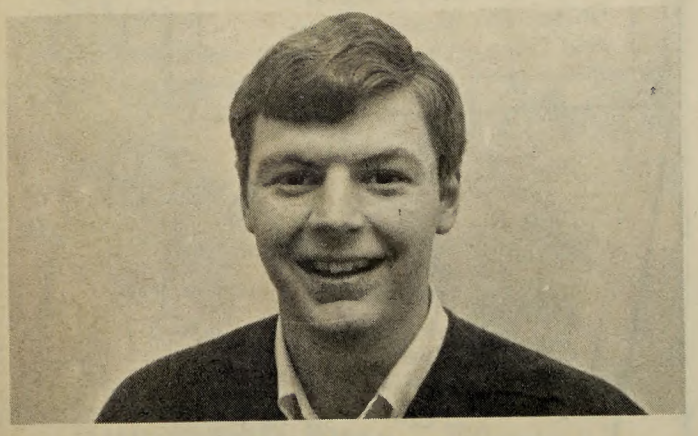
Mayer commented, "At first I thought I would have trouble with this, but Mark would fill in whenever he saw me getting in a hole."

Provides Statistics

Duane Schroeder, Wartburg's director of public information, provided an up-to-the-minute statistics report, which helped to keep the dialogue going. Such information as how much yardage was needed or how many receptions were needed for flanker back Bob Larson to set a new record kept the conversation lively.

Mayer said the experience as sports director will be very valuable to him. He wants to be a teacher and said that this will help him when he steps in front of a classroom.

"I know I am talking to more than just a microphone, and this will make teaching inevitably easier," he said.



Bill Mayer has had the difficult assignment of filling the shoes of KWAR-FM sportscaster Mark Holtz. Mayer broadcasts Wartburg's football and basketball games.

Knights Top IIAC After Mild Upset

(IIAC News Service)

The Iowa Conference basketball race is taking a breather this week before resuming for the stretch run in February.

A mild upset last week at Decorah put Wartburg alone on top of the league in time for the semester break.

UIC Upsets Luther

Upper Iowa edged Luther 86-85 to drop the Norse to second while the Knights remained undefeated with an 88-71 decision over Buena Vista.

The only two league teams which didn't appear in IIAC action last week were William Penn and Dubuque, and they start second semester action against each other Jan. 30 at Oskaloosa.

Upper Iowa, with its win over Luther, regained a second life in the league race. The Peacocks are now off until their meeting with Wartburg at Waverly Feb. 2.

Central, picked as a pre-season favorite, was practically eliminated when it was dumped 81-62 at Simpson. That win was the first in the conference for the Redmen since February, 1966.

Rowell Heads Scoring

Alex Rowell of Luther remains the scoring and rebound leader in individual statistics. He is averaging 24.5 points and 16.7 rebounds.

John Miller of Upper Iowa trails Rowell in scoring with a 23.0 average, and Mike Asque of William Penn is the rebound runner-up with a 14.6 average.

Arnold Johnson of Buena Vista paces the IIAC in field goal percentage (42 of 63 for 66.6 percent), and Gary Grimm of Dubuque is on top in free throw percentage (18 of 20 for 90.0 percent).

Luther continues to lead the league in team offense with an 85.5 average, and Wartburg remains in first in team defense with a 64.8 average.

Junior Pat Maxon Likes Free And Easy Voices

By JEANNIE COOLON

"Singers should sing the way they feel," said junior Pat Maxon, who is a speech major from Clarion.

"I really admire Barbara Streisand and Spanky from Spanky and Our Gang," she continued, "because they are natural and they sing clearly. Their voices are free and easy and there is nothing inhibited."

Pat is a member of Castle Singers and has the leading role this summer in the musical "What's the Meaning of This?" The Singers will go to the Tyrone Guthrie Theatre on March 30 and 31 to present the musical.

"I think this will be a real experience to sing in a theatre like this," she said.

While in Dallas for the performance of "What's the Meaning of This," Dick Wilson (author of the musical) took Pat to various studios where she saw advertisements being made. Here, she was given the opportunity to sing for the people making the commercials.

Pat sang her first solo when she was nine years old and has since had leads in "Music Man," "South Pacific," "Little Mary Sunshine" and "Pajama Game." She also won the Miss Talent Contest in the 1966 Miss Waverly Pageant.

Pat is also a member of "The Group," which consists of Margaret Beatty, Diane Schalkhauser, Marc Goldenstein and Tim Schumacher.

"The Group" has taken a job at the Holiday Inn in Cedar Falls, where they will sing on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. The group would like to get jobs this summer and travel around and sing.

Pat enjoys folk music the most, but likes to sing all other types of music. "I really love to sing," she concluded. "It's like anything else you enjoy doing. Singing makes me forget my problems and makes me feel happy."

Junior Pat Maxon claims singing makes her forget her problems. Pat will sing the leading role in "What's the Meaning of This?" this summer.

Olson Named To New Post

NEWS BUREAU -- Dr. David Olson, chairman of Wartburg's Physical Education Department, has been named an abstractor of research findings and innovative practices for the Phi Delta Kappa honorary society for men in education.

Dr. Olson's responsibility will be to read research publications, find new material, write a short summary and send it to the School Research Information Service in Bloomington, Ind. There it will be put on microfilm and put at the disposal of educators.

Research to be pursued will deal primarily with innovative practices in U. S. and Canadian school systems.

Pub House Men Won't Move, After All!

Students residing in the upstairs of the Publications House will not change residence for the Winter Term, as previously expected, according to Dean of Students Earnest F. Oppermann.

The men were told at the beginning of the year that this possibility might exist to make photography and darkroom space available to the Trumpet and Fortress staffs, whose offices are located downstairs.

However, upon checking the changes that would be necessary in order to meet the student publications' needs, Ken Trettin, student publications photographer, and Mrs. Margaret Garland, Trumpet and Fortress adviser, decided that this would cause too much trouble for all concerned at this point.

Present plans are to make the change during the summer, instead.

Dean Oppermann added, however, that there would now be enough space in the men's dormitories if the Pub House residents would want to move.

Wartburg Named In Publication

A state publication showing the international role of Iowa will give Wartburg publicity.

The 110-page book "Iowa in the World," is being sent out to foreign embassies, large businesses and many industries. It is sent out for the purpose of promoting Iowa in an international trade and encouraging business.

Wartburg receives its publicity in chapter XII discussing cultural exchange on campus. This chapter features two Iowa schools, Wartburg and the University of Iowa. A picture is shown of the Wartburg College Choir singing in Roskilde Cathedral in Denmark on a tour.

The book is a report from subcommittees of the Governor's United Nations-International Cooperation Year Committee, which has been working on the book since the spring of 1965.

Lee Earns Grant For Grad Study

NEWS BUREAU--Millard Lee of the Wartburg physics faculty has been awarded a National Science Foundation Science Faculty Fellowship for graduate study and research at Iowa State University during the period of September, 1968, through August, I969. He will do his work in nuclear physics at Ames.

Lee joined the Wartburg faculty in 1963.

Parking Ban To Aid Pedestrian Safety

By STEVE SCHLARMANN

Parking is currently prohibited by the college on 5th Avenue where it borders the campus, according to Dean Earnest Oppermann. The reason for this, said Oppermann, is to safeguard the college pedestrian.

No one should be parked directly in front of Afton Manor.

"Instead," commented Oppermann, "they are to be parked in Parking Lot D, just west of the Manor."

This space is lessened, however, by the plumbers' equipment being kept in the eastern end of the lot.

"This space," said Oppermann, "will eventually become visitor parking."

He added that "no parking" signs cannot presently be installed because of the frozen ground.

Pedestrian safety is the reason Oppermann gave for this parking policy. Traffic is rather heavy on 5th Avenue running past the Manor, since it is the only "through" street running parallel to Bremer Avenue in Waverly.

"Thus," Oppermann stressed, "there is a keen danger of accidents there if students crossing the street must walk out from between parked cars, since these cars would serve to partially obscure the students from the vision of motorists driving down 5th Avenue.

There is presently no crosswalk to the Manor across 5th Avenue. Oppermann said that one is in the planning stage, however, but that it must first be cleared with the "proper police authorities."

"Another problem to be solved," continued Oppermann, "is deciding where to position the cross walk."

If placed toward the eastern end of the Manor grounds, it will be more convenient for now. Placing it closer to Clinton Hall is better for long-range plans, however, since more manors are scheduled to be built west of Afton Manor.

National Science Program Is Offered At Iowa State

A National Science Foundation Undergraduate Participation Program has been awarded to the department of zoology and entomology at Iowa State University for this summer with 11 openings for students currently available.

Students selected for the summer program will receive a tax-free stipend of $60 per week for the 10 or 12 weeks of the program. Initial starting date will be early in June, and deadline for applications will be April 15.

The program is open to any college student in the state or nation, and participating students may register at Iowa State University for undergraduate research credit in zoology.

The program is designed to provide an introduction to research in zoology and to encourage students to seek further education in the sciences in preparation for careers in research and teaching.

Selection will depend on the student's ability in scholarly aptitude, imagination and perseverance necessary for success in graduate study.

A list of projects currently open may be obtained by writing to Dr. Paul A. Vohs, Science Building, Iowa State University, Ames.

Concert Set For Thursday

A concert will be given by the Wartburg College Concert Band on Thursday evening at 8 p.m., in the Neumann Chapel-auditorium, according to Dr. Robert E. Lee, director.

The program will include solos by Franklin E. Williams, flutist, and Art Alt, percussionist. It will also feature the crowning of the King and Queen of Snow Weekend.

This concert will last an hour and has "something for everyone," said Lee.

There will be music ranging from Tellemen to Gershwin, including an appearance by a dixieland combo comprised of faculty members Dr. James Fritschel, K. D. Briner, Dr. Lee and other citizens of Waverly.

Wartburg students and faculty will be admitted to the concert by activity tickets.

Augustana Band To Give Concert

NEWS BUREAU--The Augustana College Concert Band of Sioux Falls, S. D., on its 17th annual tour, will appear at Wartburg College Jan. 28.

Tickets for the 8 p.m. concert in Neumann Chapel-auditorium are now on sale and may be purchased in advance at Meyer's Drugs, Stauffer Drugs, the Music Corner and Doug's Shoes in Waverly.

Under the direction of Dr. Leland A. Liliehaug, the 63-piece band will present a concert composed of marches, overtures and a number of works by leading contemporary musicians.
